Biographical/Historical note

Thomas Brown Hall was born in Montgomery, Alabama, on November 12, 1845. He joined the Confederate Army in 1861 and was a member of the 24th Alabama Regiment, Company K. He was killed at the Battle of Chickamauga on September 24, 1863.

Scope and Contents note

This collection contains two items, a letter from Thomas B. Hall to his "Cousin Mary" and a typewritten transcript of the letter. Hall writes from Camp Beauregard in Alabama, describing his manservant, "Jackie," as one of the cleverest fellows he ever knew. He also discusses drills and camp life; he says the only thing he doesn't like is that he "can't go see the fairer sex."
