Office Sup't Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands broadside, University Libraries Division of Special Collections, The University of Alabama
Biographical/Historical note

The Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands (familiarly known as the Freedmen's Bureau) operated from mid-1865 through mid-1872 when it was disbanded. Its purpose was to assist former slaves in their adjustment to life as free people. It provided food, clothing, and homesteads on public lands, assisted them in finding employment, and supervised labor contracts. It also established hospitals and schools and protected their civil rights.

Scope and Contents note

The collection contains a broadside from the office of the superintendent of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands listing the thirteen rules of conduct for "all concerned" which included: freedmen, employers, and employees regardless of color.
