ABSTRACT:
Two letters from Sgt. Adam M. (“Mac”) Mummey, stationed in St. Nazaire, France, to his wife, Mrs. Gladys M. Mummey, Chillicothe, Ohio.

BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL NOTE:
At the time of these letters, Sgt Adam M. (“Mac”) Mummey was in Bakery Company #369 in the United States Army and stationed at St. Nazaire, France, during World War I. He was writing to his wife, Gladys M. Mummey in Chillicothe, Ohio.
SCOPE AND CONTENTS:
This is a collection of two letters written by Sgt. Adam. M. (“Mac”) Mummey from Bakery Company #369 to his wife, Mrs. Gladys M. Mummey, Chillicothe, Ohio. He began writing the first letter on January 31, 1919, and he concluded by saying, “will finish this tomorrow, dearie.” The other letter is dated February 1, 1919. He writes to his wife that he misses her and he hopes to be home in a few months. He mentions he is tired and needs rest so he is going to Pons to visit Mr. Stavilow to get some rest.
