Frank Jones letter, University Libraries Division of Special Collections, The University of Alabama
Biographical/Historical note

In 1874, Frank Jones and his mother lived in Lima, Ohio, while Frank's brother John, was in Nevada, Iowa.

Scope and Contents note

A letter from Frank Jones to his brother John, written from October to December of 1874, discussing harvesting apples and pumpkins, burying cabbages, and the snowy weather. John's mother lightly scolds John for the number of letters she has sent him without any reply. She also updates him on the weather as well as the local goings on.
