"I Have Found a Hiding Place" sheet music, W.S. Hoole Special Collections Library, The University of Alabama.
Biographical/Historical note

Sheet music is a handwritten or printed form of music notation that uses modern musical symbols; like its analogs — books, pamphlets, etc. — the medium of sheet music typically is paper (or, in earlier times, parchment), although the access to musical notation in recent years also includes presentation on computer screens. Use of the term "sheet" is intended to differentiate written music from an audio presentation, as in a sound recording, broadcast or live performance, which may involve video as well. In everyday use, "sheet music" (or simply "music") can refer to the print publication of commercial music in conjunction with the release of a new film, show, record album, or other special or popular event which involves music.

Scope and Contents note

This collection contains one page of handwritten sheet music on heavy paper or card stock with music and lyrics. The song appears to be religious and the creator is unknown. The bottom right hand portion of the page is missing.
