Jennie Tinsley Letter, W.S. Hoole Special Collections Library, The University of Alabama
Biographical/Historical note

Jennie Tinsley was a Christian missionary in Lucknow, India, in 1874.

Scope and Contents note

This collection contains a letter written by Jennie Tinsley while she is in India in 1874, to a Mrs. Milling. In her letter she tells of a picture (not included in collection) of a Miss Rowe who is working with her in the harems (zenanas) trying to convert the people to Christianity. She goes on to speak about how she has faith that there will soon be hundreds of conversions to Christ and asks that the sisters pray for the missionaries.
